Wandering, we came from long ago
When Abraham and Sarah took God's hand.
Trusting One, believing in themselves,
Their descendents walked through hills of sand.
Wandering, some day you will be;
You will come to understand.

CHORUS

Listen to the voice within your soul,
Telling you to seek out the unknown.
Find a place where no one else has gone;
Every step you take will be your own.
Journey far; get to know this world;
Go away to find your way back home . . .

Is with you, locked inside your heart,
And yes, you may stray; you'll always find your way
To take God with you, everywhere you go.
In all that you do, take God with you.
