captured my heart.

When the wind blows gently and the shadows flee
I will take you to the garden, I will take you with me.

You have captured my heart, my own;
You have captured my heart.

Shining through like the new dawn, beautiful as the moon above,
Like a lily among the thorns, how sweet is your love.

You have captured my heart, my own;
You have captured my heart.

How sweet is your love, my own; how sweet is your love.

So look to me my darling, with eyes that dance
And with eyes that shine.
I am my beloved's and my beloved is mine.

You have captured my heart, my own;
You have captured my heart.
